

Republicans Get Immediate Start On 1923 Fight

Chairman Morris Busy on Day After "Tidal Wave" Preparing Organization for Assembly Contests

Smith Plurality 401,252

Complete City Returns and Upstate Reports Give Copeland 282,642 Edge

Complete returns from New York City and substantially full figures from a large proportion of the remainder of the state buttressed yesterday the record-breaking fact that former Governor Alfred E. Smith carried the State against Governor Miller with a plurality of 401,252, the vote being, Smith, 1,415,804, Miller, 1,014,552.

Health Commissioner Royal S. Copeland did not do as well, but his plurality over United States Senator William M. Calder was 282,642, the vote being Copeland, 1,286,385, Calder, 1,003,743.

Shocked on the night of election at the extent of their defeat the Republican leaders smilingly emerged from the debris yesterday and once more became philosophical.

Morris Calls It "Tidal Wave" "It was a tidal wave," said Chairman George K. Morris, of the Republican State Committee, "It simply overwhelmed us. We have no apologies to make. To-day we are preparing for the assembly fight in 1923, and for the battle in 1924, and we shall put our organization in such shape that we may be able to meet our opponents with full confidence of victory. I intend to give close attention to organization affairs, and I shall be at headquarters in New York each week, and in the Albany headquarters in the Hotel Ten Eyck."

George A. Glynn, former chairman of the Republican State Committee, and at the National Republican Club and the Republican House soon recovered from the reverse and he prepared for future conflicts.

"Political history is full of sharp reverses," said Mr. Glynn. "The penitence of a good way out in 1912, establishing high water marks. It is his swing the other way and we have been emphatically defeated. The party, however, is not permanent. The tide will soon turn and Democratic control and restore us to power."

Senator Calder took his defeat cheerfully and sent a message of congratulation to his successful opponent, Dr. Copeland.

"I did not see the reverse coming," said the Senator. "I have had eighteen years of service in Washington and I have enjoyed it immensely. Of course, I shall miss the pleasure of representing the Empire State at the nation's capital. The people have been very kind to me and I feel my obligation to them. I shall at once enter actively into private business. Post mortems are useless. The people wanted the Democrats to have control. I have no complaint to make."

None of the thirty-three women nominees for various offices in the state was elected. All but one, Mrs. S. Meritt of Kingston, Democratic candidate for member of Assembly in Ulster County, were on the minority party tickets.

The showing made by Charles P. Starnes, Socialist candidate for State Engineer and Surveyor, was commented upon yesterday. He polled a total vote of New York City of 207,138. Edward J. Cassidy, who headed the Socialist ticket, polled only 60,000 in the city. Starnes was a candidate in the Republican candidate, in the Bronx.

Leaders Cite Wet Issue The feeling was universal among Republicans yesterday that the prohibition issue is of greater consequence than the leaders credited it with being. From all sides came the testimony of political workers that the argument that it was not a state issue was of little avail with Republicans possessing no proclivities. One Republican leader remarked:

"I met many Republicans who said that while prohibition might not be the real issue they nevertheless proposed to vote for Smith as a protest against enforcement of the Volstead law. They did not care about the alleged futility of voting against the party. They wanted to record their protest."

The Republican leaders are not at all convinced that the size of the sweep is what the Democrats say it is, a repudiation of the Harding Administration. In many of the Congress districts up and down the State the Republican nominees answered Democratic attacks on the record of the Harding Administration and were elected without difficulty, although by reduced pluralities.

The total vote for the state ticket nominees was as follows, with but seventy districts out of 7,301 in the entire state missing:

| Governor | |
|-----------------------|-----------|
| Smith (Dem.) | 1,415,804 |
| Miller (Rep.) | 1,014,552 |
| Smith's plurality | 401,252 |
| United States Senator | |
| Copeland (Dem.) | 1,286,385 |
| Calder (Rep.) | 1,003,743 |
| Copeland's plurality | 282,642 |

Complete returns from New York City and substantially full figures from a large proportion of the remainder of the state buttressed yesterday the record-breaking fact that former Governor Alfred E. Smith carried the State against Governor Miller with a plurality of 401,252, the vote being, Smith, 1,415,804, Miller, 1,014,552.

Health Commissioner Royal S. Copeland did not do as well, but his plurality over United States Senator William M. Calder was 282,642, the vote being Copeland, 1,286,385, Calder, 1,003,743.

Shocked on the night of election at the extent of their defeat the Republican leaders smilingly emerged from the debris yesterday and once more became philosophical.

Morris Calls It "Tidal Wave" "It was a tidal wave," said Chairman George K. Morris, of the Republican State Committee, "It simply overwhelmed us. We have no apologies to make. To-day we are preparing for the assembly fight in 1923, and for the battle in 1924, and we shall put our organization in such shape that we may be able to meet our opponents with full confidence of victory. I intend to give close attention to organization affairs, and I shall be at headquarters in New York each week, and in the Albany headquarters in the Hotel Ten Eyck."

George A. Glynn, former chairman of the Republican State Committee, and at the National Republican Club and the Republican House soon recovered from the reverse and he prepared for future conflicts.

"Political history is full of sharp reverses," said Mr. Glynn. "The penitence of a good way out in 1912, establishing high water marks. It is his swing the other way and we have been emphatically defeated. The party, however, is not permanent. The tide will soon turn and Democratic control and restore us to power."

Senator Calder took his defeat cheerfully and sent a message of congratulation to his successful opponent, Dr. Copeland.

"I did not see the reverse coming," said the Senator. "I have had eighteen years of service in Washington and I have enjoyed it immensely. Of course, I shall miss the pleasure of representing the Empire State at the nation's capital. The people have been very kind to me and I feel my obligation to them. I shall at once enter actively into private business. Post mortems are useless. The people wanted the Democrats to have control. I have no complaint to make."

None of the thirty-three women nominees for various offices in the state was elected. All but one, Mrs. S. Meritt of Kingston, Democratic candidate for member of Assembly in Ulster County, were on the minority party tickets.

The showing made by Charles P. Starnes, Socialist candidate for State Engineer and Surveyor, was commented upon yesterday. He polled a total vote of New York City of 207,138. Edward J. Cassidy, who headed the Socialist ticket, polled only 60,000 in the city. Starnes was a candidate in the Republican candidate, in the Bronx.

'I'm as Surprised as You Are,' Copeland Tells Health Force

Senator-Elect to Remain at Head of City Bureau Until Next March; Thanks Calder for Congratulatory and Courtesy Throughout the Campaign

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, United States Senator-elect, announced yesterday that he would remain Health Commissioner of New York City until he took the oath of office as Senator next March. He made the announcement at a reception held for him at the offices of the Health Department. The employees of the department gathered at the noon hour to congratulate the Commissioner. Dr. Frank J. Monaghan, who was acting Health Commissioner, while Dr. Copeland was campaigning, was chairman of the reception committee.

The Senator-elect, in expressing his sentiments to the employees, said: "The elevation to this office is as much of a surprise to me as it is to you. I have mingled emotions. It is nice to have honors thrust upon you, but honors have burdens. I realize the force of these new responsibilities, but the training that you have given me in the Health Department cannot but be helpful to me in my new sphere."

There were eighty-two lawyers out of a total membership of ninety-six in the United States Senate at the present time. He remarked that there would not be so many lawyers in the next Senate.

Dr. Copeland received a telegram from Senator-elect William M. Calder, his defeated Republican opponent, which said: "Accept my congratulations." The Senator-elect, in acknowledging Senator Calder's message, wired:

"I appreciate your telegram of congratulatory. Accept my thanks for it, and particularly for the courteous and generous treatment you accorded me throughout the campaign."

Special Dispatch to The Tribune DETROIT, Nov. 8.—Rosalie B. Copeland, eighty-four-year-old father of Dr. Royal S. Copeland, was joyfully overjoyed over the victory of his son in New York.

"My son is a man of destiny," he said. "Royal never sought the office nor did he spend money to get it. He simply was asked to run and consented."

Mr. Copeland and his wife came from Detroit from their farm at Dexter, Mich., to pass the winter with their daughter.

"It is a big job, that of United States Senator," he said. "I only hope our boy will be able to handle it capably."

Dr. Copeland's election to the Senate occurred on his fifty-fourth birthday.

Copeland (Dem.) 1,286,385
Calder (Rep.) 1,003,743
Copeland's plurality, 282,642.

Lieutenant Governor
Lunn (Dem.) 1,216,244
Donovan (Rep.) 1,016,524
Lunn's plurality, 199,720.

Secretary of State
Hamilton (Dem.) 1,235,811
Joseph (Rep.) 1,049,723
Hamilton's plurality, 186,088.

Comptroller
Fleming (Dem.) 1,234,517
Maier (Rep.) 1,125,681
Fleming's plurality, 108,836.

Treasurer
Shuler, Dem. 1,205,748
Marshall, R. 1,069,765
Shuler's plurality 135,983

Attorney General
Sherman, Dem. 1,229,105
Rogers, Rep. 1,043,691
Sherman's plurality 185,414

Engineer
La Du, Dem. 1,117,281
Cadie, Rep. 1,006,884
La Du's plurality 110,397

Ralston's Margin Over Beveridge Is Placed at 28,000

Democratic Gains in Indiana Extend to Districts Generally Regarded as Rock-Ribbed Republican

Special Dispatch to The Tribune INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 8.—Returns from yesterday's election with a few scattering precincts of the 3,896 in the state yet to be heard from show that Samuel M. Ralston, Democrat, has defeated Albert J. Beveridge, Republican, by approximately 28,000 votes.

The results show that Beveridge ran far behind the state ticket, as Edward Jackson, Republican, running for reelection as Secretary of State, defeated Daniel M. Link, Democrat, by approximately 25,000 votes.

The difference in the vote between Beveridge and Jackson indicated that the Hoosiers put their tickets in an almost unprecedented manner. There is no question but that the bitter primary fight won by Beveridge over Senator New for the nomination was reflected at the polls and that many "stand pat" Republicans remembered Beveridge activities with the Progressive party.

Ralston waged his fight almost exclusively on the subject of taxation and the tariff. He opposed strenuously the Republican tariff and pointed to his record as Governor on the subject of state taxes. Beveridge, it was generally conceded, incurred the opinion of organized labor by his attitude on labor subjects.

The result in Indiana was a turnover from a Republican landslide in 1920 to Democratic victory this year. It was the first Democratic victory of consequence since 1912, when the Progressive party split the Republican ranks, resulting in the election of Ralston as Governor and general Democratic success.

Some indication of the turnover may be had from the fact that James E. Watson, Republican candidate for the Senate two years ago, defeated Thomas Taggart, his Democratic opponent, by a plurality of 167,663. President Harding's plurality was greater than this.

The Democratic gain was general over the state. On the face of returns, it was indicated there was not a district, and possibly not a county, in which the Democrats did not make gains. In numerous instances Ralston penetrated hitherto normally Republican territory and carried pluralities.

Smith (Dem.) 1,415,804
Miller (Rep.) 1,014,552
Smith's plurality, 401,252

Copeland (Dem.) 1,286,385
Calder (Rep.) 1,003,743
Copeland's plurality, 282,642

Lieutenant Governor
Lunn (Dem.) 1,216,244
Donovan (Rep.) 1,016,524
Lunn's plurality, 199,720

Secretary of State
Hamilton (Dem.) 1,235,811
Joseph (Rep.) 1,049,723
Hamilton's plurality, 186,088

Comptroller
Fleming (Dem.) 1,234,517
Maier (Rep.) 1,125,681
Fleming's plurality, 108,836

Smith Firm in Stand to Undo Transit Work

Declines to Amplify Program, but Declares He Will Carry Out Pledges, Which Include Traction

Thousands Congratulate

"Election Still On," Says Next Governor, Awaiting Returns for Legislature

Governor-elect Smith is pledged to fight to his utmost to undo the work accomplished by Governor Miller for the relief of the transit situation in this city. He declined yesterday to discuss his plans, but his stand on the transit question was made clear in his speech at Elmira during the campaign, and he declared he intended to make good on his pledges.

He said at Elmira that he would bend every effort when he returned to Albany to nullify the Miller transit legislation, abolish the Transit Commission and restore to the municipalities of the state their former power over franchises and their former authority in dealing with public utility corporations.

It was in Elmira also that Smith explained where he stood on prohibition. In response to a question as to whether he favored the return of the saloon, he replied that he was not "senseless." He stood squarely on the plank in his party's state platform advocating modification of the prohibition enforcement act to permit the manufacture and sale of light wine and beer.

Can't Discuss Program Now Questions as to his probable policy in these and other matters went unanswered yesterday, however.

"I can't discuss program at this time," he said. "So far as I am concerned the election still is on. I haven't the final word yet on the Legislature and I am going to consider well and carefully all these subjects. All I can say now is that I will do my best to make good to the people of the state who elected me and carry out the pledges made during the campaign and in the Democratic platform."

The Governor-elect sent the following telegram to all his running mates on the Democratic state ticket:

"Sincere and hearty congratulations. Let us pull together and we are sure to make good."

To the various Democratic county chairmen throughout the state he wired:

"Cordial and hearty congratulations. Your and your associates' good work is sincerely and deeply appreciated."

Thousands of congratulatory telegrams for the successful candidate were received at the Hotel Biltmore and at his Oliver Street home yesterday. Several members of the campaign committee at headquarters were busy sorting and relaying them to the Governor-elect. There were hundreds which he had not yet seen last night.

There were not a few from Republican friends. The two younger members of the Smith family took it upon themselves to read a few of the telegrams to Dad at the breakfast table yesterday, the Governor-elect said. Walter, ten years old, was doing the reading, and Arthur, seven, supplied the comments.

"The wonderful majority was a tribute to 'Democracy,'" as his young hopeful read it. Al said, when the other youthful came back with the query: "What was the plurality?"

Many old down-town friends called upon Mr. Smith at the Biltmore yesterday to congratulate him in person. One oldtimer who worked with Al twenty years ago in the office of the Commissioner of Jurors serving subpoenas remarked upon leaving:

"We'll do better next time."

The Governor-elect spent a quiet day yesterday with his family. In the afternoon he visited his mother in Brooklyn, spending an hour and a half with her. He explained that he went over to see his mother because he hadn't seen her "since victory came." He had talked with her only a few minutes over the telephone Tuesday night.

upon Mr. Smith at the Biltmore yesterday to congratulate him in person. One oldtimer who worked with Al twenty years ago in the office of the Commissioner of Jurors serving subpoenas remarked upon leaving:

"We'll do better next time."

The Governor-elect spent a quiet day yesterday with his family. In the afternoon he visited his mother in Brooklyn, spending an hour and a half with her. He explained that he went over to see his mother because he hadn't seen her "since victory came." He had talked with her only a few minutes over the telephone Tuesday night.

"Voters Did the Talking," Miller's Only Comment Will Take Up Personal Affairs on Retirement From Office on January 1

ALBANY, Nov. 8.—Governor Miller's plans contemplate a retirement to personal affairs after January 1. He declined to-day to add greatly to his early statements on the result of the election.

"I did the talking before election and the voters did the talking yesterday," he said. "I don't think anything more can be said."

The Governor showed no evidence of disappointment or chagrin at the outcome of the balloting. He is busily engaged in clearing up official business in preparation for a rest of two weeks at Hot Springs, Va. He will be accompanied on the vacation by Mrs. Miller.

The Governor retired early last night shortly after he sent his message of congratulation to former Governor Smith. He learned of the Democratic landslide early over a special wire at the Executive Mansion. His youngest son, Alvin, carried the reports to the Governor.

Up On Your Toes in light, flexible Cantilevers

Every step you take in them is a setting up exercise for the muscles of your foot. Cantilever Shoes prevent flat foot and strengthen weak feet, enabling them to carry you thru busy days with more pep and comfort. Come in and see what a shoe with a flexible arch means to the flexible arch of your foot.

CANTILEVER SHOE SHOPS
14 W. 40th St. (Opp. Library) N. Y.
364 East Fordham Road
414 Fulton St. (over Schraft's) Bkln.
897 Broad St. (2nd floor) Newark

Ship and Liquor Released
The release of the British registered schooner Reana, sized September 4 as a suspected rum runner by customs officials, was ordered yesterday under the new three-mile sea limit ruling of the State Department. The Reana was carrying 1,500 cases of liquor, which was also ordered returned to Captain John Simms, of Yarmouth, N. S., in charge of the craft.

World Cruising Launch Safe
In Canary Islands Harbor
CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—With all members on board safe, the Speejaacks, a 98-foot gasoline launch nearing the completion of a trip around the world, today was reported as arriving at Las Palmas, Canary Islands. Six days overdue, fear had been entertained that the Speejaacks had capsized.

A cablegram from A. Y. Gowan to friends in Chicago said: "All are well. Late arrival due to heavy seas. Fortunate to make destination."

Stern Brothers
West Forty-Second Street and West Forty-Third Street.

MEN'S Winter Underwear

—Soft and non-irritating in texture.
—Tailored to form-fitting measurements, and ensuring the utmost comfort.

A most extensive variety now featured at moderate prices.

SHIRTS and DRAWERS—
Winter weight; natural color wool and cotton mixed; regular or short lengths, each $1.95

UNION SUITS—
In grey wool and cotton mixed; medium weight per suit $1.55

In cotton ribbed; Winter weight; long sleeves; ankle length; white only, per suit $1.65

In natural worsted; medium or heavy weight; desirable for Fall and Winter; suit $2.95

Cohalan Thanks His Aids; Sees Notable Assault on Bosses

Fight Against the Murphy-Koenig System Must Go On Until the People Win, He Says in Statement

Surrogate John P. Cohalan issued a statement last night thanking all who aided him in his fight for re-election, and at the same time sent a telegram to the victor, John P. O'Brien, wishing him success. In his statement Surrogate Cohalan said:

"I extend my thanks to all who have taken part in the great campaign just ended to uphold a non-partisan judiciary free of boss domination. In the face of a political landslide almost without precedent, the principle has been sustained by a vote giving unmistakable evidence of the vitality and growing strength of its hold upon the people."

"The splendid fight by the public-spirited press and the upstanding manhood and womanhood of the county is unparalleled. To have polled nearly 70,000 votes on the returns prepared by the election inspectors of Murphy and Koenig and despite the combined opposition of their two machines, demonstrates that in an ordinary year bossism of the courts would have been destroyed."

"The fight against this system must go on until the people win. In that struggle I shall be happy to serve in the ranks with the same earnestness and vigor with which I engaged in this campaign."

"Although I shall not succeed myself as Surrogate, I have the satisfaction of knowing that the principle for which we fought has made a notable advance and that bosses will long hesitate before again daring to challenge the independence of the bench."

"In a similar fight a few years ago the 'judiciary nominators' polled about ten thousand votes. The great progress since then on behalf of an unbossed judiciary is evidenced by yesterday's result. The future holds nothing but hope and certainty of success for those who stand for the American ideals of justice and fair play."

"To all who took part in the campaign I give my thanks. I never can repay their splendid and unselfish service. My work for this principle in the coming years will show the depth and sincerity of my gratitude."

Canada Sees Republican Reverses Due to Tariff
Passage of Fordney Bill Affecting Dominion Exports and Diverted Trade

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 8.—Republican reverses in yesterday's elections in the United States were interpreted here to-day largely as a reaction from the Republican tariff bill, which is unpopular in Canada.

The passing of the Fordney tariff bill seriously affected certain classes of Canadian exports, particularly agricultural products, and W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, went to Washington in March and had discussions with President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity.

Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

President Harding and leading Congressmen touching on reciprocity. Canada has since been finding new outlets for her foreign trade. Mr. Fielding is now in Paris negotiating with the French government a new and probably wider trade treaty. He also has opened negotiations with Italy.

FACTS about PAPER

NO. 36

BROOKDALE Linen Bond

Traveling good company. You will find the watermark "Brookdale Linen Bond" in the business stationery of the leading banks, mercantile enterprises and manufacturing concerns. Big business knows the soundness and value of Brookdale Linen Bond Letterheads.

Samples on request LINDENMEYER Telephone SPRING 9600